CURFEW ORDINANCE PASSED TO REGULATE CONDUCT OF MINORS

Construction work on the Woodrow street and Hillside Manor improvements may start early in the fall.

At last Monday evening's council meeting a declaration of intention to construct the street improvements was adopted. A hearing on the new work will be held during the council meeting on September 8.

After the hearing bids will be sent out and none year serial bonds will be issued.

In the Hillside Manor project total construction, engineering and legal costs have been estimated at $37,081. As for the Woodrow Street project construction costs have been estimated at $4,420.04.

In the Hillside Manor project the streets will be improved on portions of Bismark, Thiers and Gambetta streets and Abbott and Wyandotte avenues.

The Woodrow street project would affect that street from Citrus street to the north end of the high school land.

Some 13 resolutions and one ordinance were considered by the councilmen during their meeting on Monday.

The ordinance regulates the conduct of minors on streets and in public places. The ordinance provides for a 10 p. m. curfew for minors and repeals a wartime measure adopted in 1943. The ordinance is printed on page 5 of the Record.

The meeting was called to order at 8:15 p. m. Present were Mayor Battye, Councilmen Craig, Dennis, McHugh, City Engineer, and City Clerk Ross.

ATOMIC RACE

The United States Atomic Energy Commission made it clear in its recent semi-annual report that it is not waiting for other nations to catch up with us in atomic research nor is it pinning any high hopes on international control through the United Nations.

This means that as far as our country is concerned the atomic race is on in dead earnest. We are continuing to make atomic bombs, says the commission, and are pressing the search for better and cheaper means of producing fissionable materials.

It is to be regretted that the nations of the world are not cooperating in the development of the atom solely for peaceful purposes instead of working separately and mainly toward destructive ends. It can be honestly said, however, that our government has made every possible effort to secure cooperation.

As undesirable as is an atomic race it is the only alternative to either turning over our know-how to the world without adequate protection to ourselves and other nations, or sitting idly by while others develop atomic power beyond what we have thus far achieved.

As long as aggressor nations know that we are ahead of them in atomic knowledge they'll hesitate to involve us in a war.

LOYALTY CHECK

The House of Representatives seems to have gone overboard on its crusade against "disloyal" government workers.

The bill which would create a five-man Federal Loyalty Commission also provides that any government employee may be fired by this commission on the spot without a hearing and without the right of appeal, if an FBI loyalty check on him proved unfavorable.

Back of the House's action, however, appears to be the feeling that too little has been done by the administration to weed out government workers who are members of organizations known, or believed to be, subversive. Washington reports indicate that there are more than a few individuals drawing salaries from Uncle Sam who are more sympathetic with the Communist ideology than with democratic principles. Some workers are even suspected of being in the employ of a "foreign power." But the number in this group, if there is such a group, must be extremely small.

We do not feel that any person actively connected with an organization working to undermine our democratic form of government should be tolerated on the public payroll. But we do feel that everyone accused is entitled to a fair hearing and an appeal.

What must be watched in connection with loyalty investigations is that they are not turned into witch hunts.

TIME FOR TAX REVISION

Governor Dewey's proposal for revamping overlapping federal and state taxes has aroused considerable disagreement among government officials on various levels, but it is evident that a thorough study of the whole tax structure—national, state and local—is needed.

Over the years one tax after another has been added with little regard for overlapping and duplication. On incomes, for example, the federal government imposes a heavy tax. Some states, including our own, follow suit, although at lower rates. Certain cities also tax incomes.

Some taxes have long proved inequitable, yet they are continued. The tax on dividends after the corporation paying the dividends has already paid a tax on its earnings, is one of these. Another, here in California, is the impost on goods shipped by highway common carriers. This is known as the 3 per cent gross receipts tax.

On a shipment of airplane parts between Fresno and San Francisco, for instance, the tax is more than four times greater than on a shipment of beer weighing exactly as much. Tax on a load of butter moving between Modesto and San Diego is nearly twice as much as on a load of wheat of the same weight.

Why should the tax on one load be twice or four times that of another? The truck hauling 15 tons of butter doesn't wear the highway pavement any more than if it were carrying 15 tons of wheat. Furthermore, if a private truck handled either load it would pay no gross receipts tax at all.

Such unfair taxes should be eliminated. As a matter of fact, California truckers proposed a tax in its place that was fairer, equally productive in revenues but less costly to collect. The State Senate, however, turned it down—maybe because it would have saved the State some money.

Anyway, it is high time that the hodge-podge tax structure in this country of ours was straigntened out.

OUT-OF-POCKET

If your pocketbook is rather flat this year maybe it's because of your "contribution" to Uncle Sam last year. The Federal Tax Collector has revealed that Californians in 1946 parted with $3,143,160,655, in settling their accounts with the "Old Gentleman."

Richard Walker Completes Course At Army School

Fort Monmouth, N. J., July 23—Pfc. Richard H. Walker, USA, Sig. C, of 178 Woodrow street, Daly City, has successfully completed a communications specialty course in the Signal School here and is now a qualified radio repairman, it was announced today.

Pfc. Walker enlisted in the Signal Corps, USA, for a period of 3 years, on July 23, 1946. He received his elementary military training in Fort Dix, N. J. After completion of this training, he was selected for student duty in the radio section of the enlisted department at the signal school here.

Pfc. Walker attended the Jefferson Union High school where he graduated with the class of '47 (Feb). He also played forward on the basketball team in 1945. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Walker.

San Mateo Man Heads Calif. Vet Association

William A. Burkett, of San Mateo, has been appointed acting state commander of the California Department of American Veterans of World War II, AMVETS, by the executive committee of the organization. The appointment was made possible by the resignation of Frank Scrive, of Los Angeles.

In accepting the state commandership, Burkett urged all veterans to file for public office, attend the national Democratic and Republican conventions as delegates and help develop definite policies in both national and international affairs.

He also said that the veteran does not belong to a privileged class simply because he fulfilled his duty by defending America when she was in peril.

Burkett, a Federal special agent stationed in San Francisco, is a member of the Disabled American Veterans and the American Legion.

He gained national notice 13 years ago, when he was 21, by writing the "History of America" to be carved on the Mt. Rushmore National Memorial in the Black Hills.

VETS URGED TO APPLY FOR LEAVE BONDS

Veterans who have not yet applied for unused leave bonds are urged to do so without further delay, by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer.

While the time for filing has been extended by recent Congressional action, Granger stated, the various armed services who enenlarged their staffs in anticipation of a last minute rush prior to September 1, would appreciate veterans eligible for unused leave filing at once.

Application forms are available at the County Service Office in the Courthouse, Redwood City, where assistance in compiling them, and free notarial service are provided.

New Telephone Directories Are Being Delivered

Deliveries are under way of the new telephone directories containing the new telephone numbers which become effective August 10.

Lyle M. Brown, San Francisco division manager of the telephone company, expected that the directory would be a well-read edition inasmuch as three out of four listings will be new and changed numbers. He cautioned, however, that subscribers continue to use their present directories until Sunday, August 10, as the new numbers will not become effective until that day. Because of this, directory distributors are not following their usual practice of picking up the old directories, and, instead, subscribers are asked to destroy them on August 10.

More than 363,000 copies of the San Francisco edition are being distributed, an increase of about 18,500 over the previous issue. It contains 248,756 alphabetical listings, an increase of 12,206 over the previous issue.

The Oakland and East Bay edition will total more than 220,000 copies, an increase of 16,200 over the previous issue. It contains 179,151 alphabetical listings, an increase of 8,956.

Brown called special attention to the cover treatment, which notifies subscribers to "Use this directory starting Sunday, August 10, 1947 — Until August 10 please use your old directory — then destroy it." Delivery of the new directories will be completed by August 8 in both San Francisco and East Bay.

Miss Chesebrough's Long Red Cross Service Honored

Red Cross and civic groups throughout the country are continuing to pay tribute to Miss Helen Chesebrough, of Hillsborough, on the occasion of her retirement as vice president of the San Mateo County chapter of the Red Cross.

Miss Chesebrough ended 30 years of service to the local chapter at the annual meeting of the board of directors on July 15.

At the same meeting Stanford Hannah, of Daly City, was nominated to serve on the new board of directors.

The directors expressed gratification that she will continue to hold her title and act in an advisory capacity. She is relinquishing the majority of her responsibilities which will be taken over by Francis M. Taylor, newly appointed chapter manager.

Lois Rich Is Honoree At Surprise Showers

A charming hostess was Miss Doris Vernengo and a surprised guest for the second time was Miss Lois Rich, when on Friday evening, July 25, a lingerie bridal shower was given in her honor at the Vernengo residence, 398 Bellevue avenue.

Of the many lovely gifts received by the prospective bride of most sentimental value was a pair of dainty blue garters presented her; one to be worn on her wedding day and the other to be passed from one friend to the other to be worn on their "lucky day."

A repast of cocktails, creamed tuna on patty shells, stuffed eggs, pickles and olives, cream cake with "Good Luck, Lois and Ralph" decorated on it were enjoyed by the guests who ate by candlelight. The table was decorated with sweetpeas and candles.

Present for the evening were Mesdames Gertrude Rich, mother of the bride-to-be; Virginia Freeman, Rose Perada.

Misses Nadine McDonnell, Doris Vernengo, hostess; Barbara Gregor, Kathleen Day, Verna Moresco, Lois Rich, honoree.

Then on Monday night, July 28, a kitchen shower was given for Lois by Mrs. Lenore Rigler and Miss Anita Lehigh at 563 Crocker avenue. Again the honoree received many lovely gifts.

Delicious buffet refreshments of fruit salad, toasted tuna sandwiches, and cake were served the following guests: Mesdames Allene Lehigh, Mildred Seiler, Bell Capps, Metha McDavid, Betty Janssen, Lenore Rigler, Dolores Van Kirk, Gertrude Rich, Virginia Freeman.

Misses Doris Vernengo, Louise Ross, Anita Lehigh, Alice D'Isep, Verna Moresco, Beatrice Bordson, and Lois Rich.

Miss Rich, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Rich, 109 Acton street, will marry Ralph G. Capps, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Capps, 1200 15th avenue, and former residents of Daly City, at the altar of the Little Chapel of Lakeside, Nineteenth and Ocean avenues, on Saturday evening, August 2, at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Rich has asked Verna Moresco to be her maid of honor and Mrs. Virginia Freeman and Miss Doris Vernengo, bridesmaids.

Former Resident Passes Away In Mountain View

Joseph Radulovich, 75, a pioneer Daly City resident, passed away at his home in Mountain View on Tuesday, July 22. He came here in 1909 and moved to Mountain View nine years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emilia Radulovich, of Mountain View, and one daughter, Mrs. Johanna Goff, of San Francisco. He was the father of the late Mrs. May Kormos and Fred Radul.

He also leaves Dorothy Guselbrecht, Laurence Goff jr., and Dr. Richard Kormos, as grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the W. C. Lasswell & Co. on Thursday, July 24. Interment was at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

William Yeoman Passes Away

William R. Yeoman, 64, 43 Vendome street, passed away in his sleep last Thursday morning. Funeral services were held last Saturday from the chapel of the W. C. Lasswell & Co. Interment was in Olivet Memorial Park.

Mr. Yeoman, a native of St. Louis, Michigan, lived in Daly City for the past seven years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mildred Yeoman.

Residents Of Scotland Visit Mrs. Bennett

Mr. and Mrs. W. Sandilands, of Methie Fife, Scotland, left Mills Field by air for New York on July 17. They visited friends on the East coast for a few days and left New York for their home in Scotland on July 21.

While they were in Daly City they stayed with Mrs. James R. Bennett.

Mrs. Sandilands and Mrs. Bennett went to school together and had not seen each other for 40 years. In 1907 Mrs. Bennett came to this county and since then has lived in Daly City.

Arrive Safely In Europe For Vacation Trip

Planning a trip abroad for the past ten years were Mr. and Mrs. John Bernardi, 333 Peoria street. On Wednesday, July 16, they left by plane for Switzerland and expect to return in October via France and Italy.

In Switzerland Mrs. Bernardi will visit her mother Maddellena Motta, 73 years old. In France the couple will visit Mr. Bernardi's brother, Dominic Bernardi, in Piennes. From there to Italy and home again.

A farewell party was given in their honor Saturday evening, July 12, at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marsh, 173 W. Moltke street. Hosts were the Marshes and Philip Bernardi of 333 Peoria street. Over sixty people attended.

Mrs. Bernardi has written to say they arrived safely and are having a good time.

News Column For Sportsmen

Mountain lions apparently have an aversion to the eastern slope of the Sierra, according to word from J. S. Hunter, chief of the Bureau of Game Conservation, California Division of Fish and Game.

One catamount was taken in Mono county during June, and that animal reputedly is the first killed in those parts since 1933, the year J. W. Thompson, a local hunter, bagged a big cougar.

In 40 years, it is reported, Mono county has sent in only 19 mountain lions for bounty, while the total kill for Mono, Alpine, and Inyo counties was only 44 in the forty-year period.

Across the mountains, on the Western slope, the forty-year tally of big cats totaled 1,168.

Bureau Chief Hunter reported that the lion business brisked up a bit during June. Nineteen were taken, which is four more cougars than the forty-year June average.

Kern county was high for the month, with four lions. Siskiyou and Tehama counties yielded three each; Monterey county sent in a pair; and each of the following counties produced a lion apiece: Mono, Colusa, Los Angeles, Humboldt, San Bernardino, Alameda, and San Diego.

If Sacramento river salmon are as regular in their homing habits as the swallows of the Mission San Juan Capistrano, the Bureau of Marine Fisheries, California Division of Fish and Game, wants to know about it. The information may have far-reaching effects upon the salmon industry.

The Sacramento river, Bureau Chief Richard S. Croker points out, is a piscatorial highway comparable, as regards feeders and tributaries, with U. S. 99, or U. S. 40. Its lesser streams resemble lesser roads and, way up close to the top of the watershed, tiny rivulets are like country lanes leading to an old farm house. At least it's like that to a salmon, Chief Croker says.

And prodigal salmon, returning to the place of their beginning after four years of life in the briny deep, complete a cycle that has been going on for years and years and years.

Heretofore, the annual salmon runs were accepted as a matter of course, with no one worrying about arrival times, or the destination of the fish. Then a biologist wondered whether the returning salmon are governed by the same cosmic timepiece which regulates the flight of the swallows. The biologist wondered whether the salmon return to the stream in which they were spawned at a scheduled time, year after year.

Several years ago, the Bureau of Marine Fisheries launched a study to solve this problem. They caught adult salmon, returning from sea, in commercial fishing waters near the mouth of the Sacramento. The captured fish were "tagged" with a celluloid disc and released.

They swam upstream to their respective spawning grounds, deposited their eggs and died. Their spent carcasses, drifting downstream, were recovered by crews of biologists and the discs removed.

Tabulations resulting from these experiments may reveal which of the Sacramento river's tributaries yields the greatest abundance of salmon, and also may reveal the time schedule common to each tributary. Chief Croker is of an opinion that sufficient data to answer these questions may be available by 1948.

"We hope to establish by this method," Croker said, "the total contribution of each spawning area to the total supply of salmon.

"If each tributary is found to have a specific time table, which fixes the limit during which the salmon return each year, the Bureau of Marine Fisheries can then recommend fishing seasons which will throw the fishing burden upon runs from streams producing the most salmon."

The N. B. Scofield, 100 foot patrol and research boat of the Division of Fish and Game, which served as a cargo supply vessel and tow boat for the army from July, 1943, until a few months ago, has been returned to the California Division of Fish and Game.

The army supplied $65,000 toward refitting the vessel.

After undergoing emergency repairs at an Oakland shipyard, the vessel put out for Southern California, with Captain Lars Weseth and an emergency crew aboard.

Captain Weseth, who was skipper of the N. B. Scofield before the war, served in the Merchant Marine during the hostilities.

The boat will undergo further reconditioning at Terminal Island and will resume her former duties. Prior to her "induction" into the army, the vessel plied Pacific waters from Vancouver to the Galapagos Islands, off the coast of South America.

Since the crow bounty law became effective in September of 1945, fees for 4,681 departed crows have been paid by the California Division of Fish and Game. The monthly report of J. S. Hunter, chief of the Bureau of Game Conservation, revealed that 54 per cent of the crows were killed in Sacramento valley, and 28 per cent in Ventura county.

Orange county, where the crow bounty law originated, produced only 90 dead crows. Los Angeles county sent in 89; Monterey county 221; San Joaquin county 40; Sonoma county 73; and Contra Costa county 293.

Champion crow hunter was Richey Haddon of 1209 38th street, Los Angeles, who collected bounty on 1,423 crows, representing approximately 30 per cent of the year's total crow kill. His warfare against crows yielded him $213.45.

Transportation Day Is Slated For Sunday, August 3

One of the San Francisco Bay Area's most popular special events, Army Transportation Day, will be held this year on Sunday, August 3.

Brig. Gen. Neal H. McKay, commanding San Francisco Port of Embarkation, announced that on that day special shows and open houses would be presented at Fort Mason, Oakland Army Base and Camp Stoneman. The public is cordially invited.

Large Army troop transports, used in moving soldiers to and from Pacific oversea bases, will be opened for public inspection at both Fort Mason and Oakland Army Base. A free Army ferry will operate between the two installations giving visitors an opportunity to see both shows and to see the San Francisco-Oakland waterfront from the water side as well.

In addition to the transport inspection there will be radar and loran demonstrations, showing the public how these new navigational aids operate; lifeboat and fire boat drills; Army movies; a concert by an Army band; an exhibition of new models of big guns; and other general events.

At Camp Stoneman, which is near Pittsburg in Contra Costa county, the open house will include inspection of the largest Personnel Center on the West Coast and of barracks, service clubs, hospital and mess halls; a model airplane contest; a baseball doubleheader; a formal retreat ceremony; and movies.

Army Transportation Day marks the anniversary of the Army Transportation Corps, formed in 1942 to co-ordinate all military rail, water and highway transportation.

Eagle Bowlers In Tie For Top Spot In League

Sparked by the brilliant performance of Dick Crane, the F.O.E. bowling team defeated the Casa Mateo Lounge team a week ago Wednesday evening. The local team now has a three way tie for first place in the Peninsula Bowling League. The other leader for top spot is Borden's Dairy.

Crane bowled a 550 and was followed by J. Selmi, 527; G. Lazzari, 513; N. Pearlman, 500, and Captain G. Rosaia, 394.

Next week the Borden's and Casa Mateo teams will try to eliminate each other while the Eagles bowl against the San Bruno Legion team.

The following week the Eagles will battle Borden's. The outcome of that night's bowling should decide the league leadership.

Mt. Davidson Hike Being Planned By Rec. Department

A hike to Mt. Davidson and an outing at Stern Grove is planned for tomorrow by the recreation department. The children and their parents will eat lunch at Stern Grove. Bus and streetcar transportation will be used.

Two outings are planned for next week. On Wednesday, August 6, there will be boating and fishing at Lake Merced and on Saturday, August 9, there will be a league baseball game at Seals Setadium.

For variety last week each playground group chose its own place and activity. It turned out that four of the playground groups decided on theater parties and one, Crocker, chose roller skating.

Elman Rose today asked that everyone sign up as soon as possible for the Muir Woods trip on Friday, August 15. Also included in the outing is a walk across the Golden Gate Bridge, for those who are interested.

Since a bus must be chartered at least 33 must sign up and pay for their transportation ($1.00) by next Friday, August 8.

Mrs. Gensel, who is chairman of the country store, urged everyone to work hard at their sewing. The next meeting will be held August 14 at the home of Mrs. Gensel, 188 Acton street.

Workers Should Apply For Social Security At 65

Fourteen million dollars a year is lost to persons throughout the country who fail to file an application on time for social security retirement payments. It is estimated that about $15,000 is lost each year to residents of San Mateo county for the same reason. Many claims filed with the San Mateo Social Security office are filed late and the retired worker has been out from one month's benefit to a whole year or more of payments.

In order to receive all payments due, every person who has worked in jobs covered by social security should apply when age 65 is reached. By doing so, payment will be made to each insured worker (and to his wife at 65, and any child under 18) for any month thereafter in which he earns less than $15 in covered work. If not working at all or if working in jobs that are not covered, the payments will be made each month.

"We are deeply concerned with having applications for retirement payments filed on time," said Edward J. Foley, manager of the San Mateo office of the Social Security Administration. "Because we constantly find cases where benefits are lost, we recommend that every worker file application at age 5. Since benefits can't be paid until applied for, actual loss of payment can thus be avoided.

"If the applicant continues to work in covered jobs, he can apply later on for any possible increase in the rate. The first application protects him so that benefits will be paid for months not worked because of illness, lay-off, and the like or for months when he is working in jobs not covered by social security. By advising us of months for which benefits are payable, he will be assured of receiving all payments to which he is entitled.

"Every holder of a social security card should keep it in mind to file an application for old age insurance at 65. Then the full value of the benefits for which he has paid will be preserved for him."

Former City Councilman Lauds Baseball Interest In Local Community

Daly City, California
July 24, 1947

Editor, Daly City Record

Dear Sir:

The enthusiasm being shown by followers of baseball at our local park in recent months is right in line with baseball activities throughout the entire peninsula; all of which is as it should be and speaks well for the future.

Here in Daly City we have some six or eight baseball clubs operating with Daly City Merchants, Central Creamery, Colma Boys club sr. and jr., American Legion and several other young clubs, in that grand old American game — baseball; the greatest outdoor game of them all.

Last Sunday's games at Marchbank Park, played under ideal weather conditions, attracted a large gathering of fans to the local diamond and they were treated to some very high class semi-pro baseball. The three games were played at 10, 12:15, and 2:30. Most of the crowd witnessed all these games. The 12 o'clock game was a thriller between Rogers A.C. and Colma Boys Club sr., two young clubs composed of some classy young high school players. They are playing in the San Francisco Recreation Summer league. In the afternoon game a very classy young team, neatly uniformed, "Interstate Utilities" from Redwood City, tangled with the Daly City Merchants in a very stubbornly contested game and edged out a win in final innings, a thriller all the way. Both teams featured with beautiful throws from the outfield to catch runners at home plate on very close plays. This, by the way, was the Merchants' first loss in 12 starts.

With the keen interest shown in baseball in our midst these days on the part of sponsors and baseball followers we should soon have clubs to rate with any on the Peninsula.

And why not? It is a safe prediction we have more youngsters here in Daly City than any city of like size on the entire Peninsula.

May I congratulate the Record on the space given to promoting these activities by publishing box scores, results and games coming up, exactly what is needed for the encouragement of sponsors and managers and how those ball players follow the box score!

Signed: Ed Cavagnaro

Estate Protests Condemnation Of Crocker Land

The federal government has filed a condemnation suit on behalf of the Signal Corps for 190 acres of high ground near Daly City.

The army indicates that the land is ideally suited for the receiving towers of the army's radio station, WVY, which handles radio reports from the Pacific and from Washington. Most of the land has been under lease since the early days of the war.

But officials of the Crocker Estate Co. reveal that a residential subdivision is being planned both on the land sought by the government and on the adjacent property.

The company says it has made plans for the subdivision in order to furnish home sites for workers in the factories to be located on the industrial property lying to the east, which is presently being graded for spur track sites.

Organized Labor Discuss Coming Political Campaign

Highly organized political action by a coalition of organized labor is in the offing as a feature of coming elections in San Mateo county communities.

Such political action was the principal topic discussed at the Eighth Congressional District Legislative Conference, held in Palo Alto on Sunday.

The defeat of Congressman Jack Z. Anderson in the next election was set up as a principal objective of the county subcommittee to be formed soon.

The passage of the Taft-Hartley Labor Bill was named as one cause for the setting up of the political action group.

Attending the conference were 181 residents of San Mateo, Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties which represented the AFL, CIO, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, farm organizations, American Veterans Committee, and civic and political groups.

Principal speaker was Scott Weakley, Oakland city councilman, who declared that the acts of legislative bodies are not representative of the people as a whole.

Among the recommendations made were the Federal Government restore its slashed expenditures for farm commodities. One of the panel sessions opposed universal military training and said that all atomic bombs now in existence should be destroyed.

Different Steels

Steel is steel to most people, but to a metallurgist there are different kinds of steel. In one make of automobile most of the outside parts are cold-rolled steel. Hot-rolled and strip steel, more malleable but not as highly finished, account for such parts as floor pans, frames, bracings, radius rods, axle housing and running boards. Cold-drawn bars are used chiefly in drive shafts and screw products. There is terne plate in the gas tank and special sections in the front axle and brake shoes.

OFF THE BLOTTER

An attempt was made to force entry into the Associated Gas station, at School and Mission street and Wednesday, July 23, according to Louie Nannini, the proprietor.

He says the lock on the lube rack was bent. He added that it appeared that an attempt was made to enter the place but it was not completed.

A small boy is said to have stolen a carton of cigarettes from the Martino Grocery store, 101 Acton street, on Monday. The youth dropped the carton when he ran out of the store. He later came back to apologize.

Nina Strickland, 332 Winchester street, claims that on Saturday evening her luggage was stolen while she was riding on a Mission street car somewhere between Army street and Geneva avenue. The bag contained a red plaid sports jacket, two slips, two pairs of hose, one night gown, bedroom shoes and cosmetics.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR . . .

Dear Editor,

The "harsh peace" for Germany has gone out the window. Actually, it ended before it ever really began. Two or three years ago the idea of making Germany into an agrarian state so that it could never again threaten world peace may have sounded all right to some persons.

Henry Morgenthau jr., former Secretary of the Treasury, is generally looked upon as the father of the plan. And it was he who apparently sold the idea to President Roosevelt.

But now in the face of harsh facts the harsh peace is out. The harsh facts are principally these (1) Europe cannot recover without a rivival of German heavy industry; (2) Germany cannot attain any reasonable degree of self-sufficiency by itself as long as the Russians keep the Eastern part of Germany, which is largely agricultural, shut off from the rest of the country.

So, the only alternative is to get German industry back on its feet as quickly as possible. In doing this the responsibility of the Western Powers to prevent Germany from becoming dangerous again through her industrial productive power will be increased. But in view of Russia's resistance to European recovery the danger to Europe and the world will be greater still if German industry is not allowed to recover.

Dear Editor,

We're glad that the Kiwanis Club in Ahoshie, North Carolina "saw the light" and decided to give the Negro war veteran, who was the original winner in their Cadillac car lottery, another Cadillac in place of the one first denied him.

It would have been much better, of course, if they had given him the car in the first place and had not precipitated the nationwide protest against their original action in refusing to recognize him as the winner because he is a Negro.

Probably no group of citizens were more angered or protested more strongly against the original action than did other Kiwanians throughout the country. Anyway, it's gratifying to see that real fair play prevailed.

Dear Editor,

It seems that visitors at Chicago night spots don't appreciate having their pictures taken by those roving camera gals. This is quite understandable when the visitors have other visitors with them—blondes, for instance. Anyway, the Illinois Legislature has put an end to the picture-taking business in night spots. Wonder if some of the lawmakers had their pictures taken—by mistake?

Fire Warden Says Faulty Mufflers Are Great Menace

County Fire Warden Bert L. Werder blames faulty mufflers of "hot rods," carelessness of smokers, and "vindictiveness" toward government in general for most of the fires in the unincorporated areas of San Mateo county.

So far this year there have been 104 reported fires in the unincorporated areas of the county. This compared with 50 fires during the same period last year.

The total number of fires in 1946 was 143 and that was nearly double the 82 reported in 1945.

Werder says that most fires are caused by inadequate automobile equipment, especially faulty mufflers.

Carelessness by smokers who throw burning cigarettes and matches out of car windows also cause a great many fires, he added.

But, he continued, many of the fires are set deliberately by "persons with a fancied grudge toward the fire department or government in general."

Werder said that "a person who deliberately wraps matches around a cigarette and ties them together with a string — I can't see that he has any other motive."

Class Space Adequate For State Residents

Under emergency conditions the University of California will be prepared to provide general classroom space on its major undergraduate campuses for all qualifed residents of the State who desire to enroll in the fall of 1947, whether as freshmen or as advanced students transferring from junior colleges.

This statement was made today by President Robert Gordon Sproul, following receipt of word from the Chief Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings that 357,000 square feet of temporary classroom, laboratory, and office space will be ready for occupancy on the eight campuses by September, 1947.

ITALIAN-AMERICAN CLUB ARE OPPOSED TO CHANGES AT THE PARK

The Italian-American Club of Daly City and Colma voted unanimously to oppose the changes proposed for the Marchbank Park baseball field at a special meeting on July 23.

A protest was sent to the City Council and it was read at the Council meeting on Monday. The letter was referred to the Recreation Committee.

The civic group claims that the proposed fence which would be erected across the club house end of the lower baseball field "would shorten left and center field to such an extent as to detract from the interest of the game, and would eventually result in adult teams playing their games in other parks, or not at all."

The proposed plan, formulated by Elman Rose, city recreation director, is still in its preliminary stages. Mayor Melford D. Battye admits that "it is something we would like to have in the future."

According to the plan, the lower section is to contain basketball, volleyball and handball courts as well as horseshoe, paddleball and tetherball areas. The middle section would contain recreational activities and apparatus for children up to ten years of age. The upper area would contain a recreation building with a game room, arts and crafts room and a library.

The Italian - American Club wants the additional facilities installed in some other area of the city.

"The baseball field in Marchbank Park is widely known and recognized as one of the finest fields in the Bay area," U. Maffei, secretary of the club, said today.

"It is the earnest desire of the members of the organization that no changes be made that will in any way impair the safety of the players or effect the class of baseball that can now be played on the field," he added.

The club claims that the erection of the fence would endanger the lives and safety of players, who might be injured running into the fence while chasing fly balls.

At the baseball game played on June 20, members of the club saw three baseball games. A great many of the balls fell behind where the proposed fence would be erected.

In the letter to the city council the club wrote:

"The fence and paving proposed for the club house end of the park would deface and mar the beauty of the park as a whole, and would nulify the work and money which have been spent in putting the park in its present condition."

Federal Taxes Show Decrease

A decrease of $124,847,261 in the collection of Federal taxes in the First California District for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947, under the previous year was reported today by Collector of Internal Revenue James G. Smyth in San Francisco.

The First District includes all California north of the Kern county line.

Total collections for the 1946-1947 fiscal year were $1,521,515,-044.02. Collections for the 1945-1946 fiscal year ending June 30, were $1,646,362,305.02.

Income tax collections showed the largest decrease $144,334,732.78 under the previous year.

Collector Smyth pointed out a district change in people's amusement habits. Roof garden taxes (cabarets) have decreased. Admission tax (movies, shows, baseball and football games) have shown a large increase.

Oleomargarine tax almost doubled in the last fiscal year.

Culture Conflict Told By U.C. Man

Adjustment to a culture which demands "getting ahead in the world" while still conforming to established social custom is the main problem facing people today.

Attempts to do both — to compete economically while conforming socially — result in frustration, says Martin Loeb, assistant professor of social welfare at the University of California.

This frustration may result in personality problems, in which the individual is faced with situations for which he has no technique for handling, Prof. Loeb continues.

Solution of the adjustment problem lies largely in finding the right circle of friends and in realistic assessment of one's capabilities in his job, Prof. Loeb believes.

Announce Age Restrictions For CHP Candidates

The State Personnel Board announced today age limits for those taking the State Traffic Officer Examination to be held August 23, 1947.

Legislation passed at the last session of the Legislature which was recently signed by the Governor provides that candidates for the California Highway Patrol must have reached their 21st birthday and not have reached their 36th birthday by October 1, 1947.

Since this is a matter that neither the State Personnel Board nor the California Highway Patrol has any discretion in, Director Lampton urges that all prospective candidates review carefully the age restrictions, as announced by the Personnel Board.

U.C. Improves Star Measuring Method

A new technique for measuring star brightness, recently improved at the University of California's Lick Observatory is bringing detailed knowledge of faint stars about which even the greatest telescopes previously could give only hazy information.

The technique, pioneered in this country by a former staff member of the Observatory, Dr. Joel Stebbins, is called photoelectric photometry. It permits measurements of weak light intensities with greater precision than any other method, and is a major advance in astronomical instrumentation.

Grade Crossing Accidents Are On The Increase

The number of grade crossing accidents in California in 1946 was the largest in the past ten years and 24.2 per cent above the average for the ten-year period, President Harold P. Huls of the California Public Utilities Commission disclosed today in releasing details of the Commission's annual report on railroad-highway crossing accidents.

The report also revealed, Huls said, that the number of casualties from grade crossing accidents in California in 1946 was the second largest in the 32 years for which record has been collected and maintained.

In calling attention to the report, Huls additionally announced that the Commission is pushing with all possible speed a statewide survey of grade crossings, in which Commission engineers are joining with State highway engineers and representatives of the Federal government.

Out of this coordinated survey, which is to be undertaken immediately by the Commission staff, is expected to come pertinent recommendations for grade crossing separations, new road alignments, installations of protective devices—all of which are designed to reduce what Huls characterized as "an appalling slaughter" at grade crossings.

From the factual standpoint, the report disclosed that in 1946 there were 2750 railroad-highway crossing accidents. These involved 200 deaths, 1114 persons injured and property damage estimated at $702,202.

Of the 2750 accidents a total of 2496 were what are generally termed grade crossing accidents—collisions between a train and a vehicle and 1004 were injured. Out of the total number of accidents, 350 consist of vehicles running into moving trains; 168 of vehicles striking a crossing gate; 96 of vehicles running into a standing train.

In tendering the report to the Commission, Ward Hall, the Commission's Supervising Transportation Engineer, summarized the data by stating:

"While the ideal solution of the grade crossing problem is complete grade separation, such a program is entirely impracticable. It can only be hoped eventually that the crossings of more heavily traveled highways with the busier railroad tracks can be eliminated by separations.

"As to the remainder of the crossings, some unnecessary ones can be closed without too great inconvenience to the traveling public and others should be equipped with adequate protective devices as rapidly as possible. In many cases, existing protection should be modernized, particularly with respect to control circuits. Many of these installations were made during the early days of automatic signals and give unsatisfactory protection, the tendency being toward too long advanced warning of an approaching train and excessive unnecessary operation. A campaign of correcting such conditions should be inaugurated as materials and manpower are available. Through funds made available to the Federal Public Roads Administration many more crossings on the secondary State highway system will be afforded further automatic protection.

"Highway traffic education should also be continued to make the public more safety minded. Law enforcement should be continued and those agencies having jurisdiction should work with the public with a view to reducing these grade crossing hazards."

Uphold Court's Integrity

Only one justice of the United States Supreme court has ever been impeached—and that one was acquitted and resumed his seat on the bench, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Articles of impeachment were brought before the senate against Justice Samuel Chase in 1804 because of his activities in behalf of the Federalist party.

Worshipped Cows

Rock paintings made in 9000 B.C. and discovered in the Libyan desert of Africa show tribesmen worshipping cows.

Shoot Blood

Certain lizards can shoot a stream of blood from their eyes to a distance of five feet. Under stress of great fright or anger the lizard puffs itself up until the eyes bulge and then squirts a very fine jet of blood out of the eye. No special mechanism for this discharge has been found and the eye does not appear to be injured.

Battery Longevity Doubled

Engineers report that the average life of the battery, which has 250 different electrical applications, has been doubled in the last 20 years.

Heavy Coal Users

Railroads consumed 22 per cent of the total bituminous coal production in 1945.

Warped Door

Straighten a warped door by putting a third hinge midway between those already on the door.

Potatoes Not Fattening

Potatoes are not fattening. It's the gravy, butter or other fat that "piles up" calories. One medium-sized potato has about 100 calories—no more than an apple or banana.

B.F.Goodrich Tires
Now at LESS than PREWAR PRICES!
Looking for a postwar tire that really outwears prewar tires? Then cast your eyes on the new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown that's been proved and approved in millions more miles of service than any other postwar tire.
Of course, there are reasons these tires travel farther. (1) A wider, flatter, huskier tread puts more rubber on the road; greater contact that means less wear at any one point, longer mileage and more sure-footedness. (2) More and stronger cords take more strain from road shock and resist blowouts better.
OUTWEAR PREWAR TIRES!
But the best news is today's low price—lower, in fact, than prewar with a Big Trade-in Allowance for the unused mileage in your present tires.
Every B. F. Goodrich Tire Carries This LIFETIME GUARANTEE
"Every tire or tube of our manufacture bearing our name and serial number is guaranteed to be free from defects in workmanship and material without limit as to time or mileage."

Coast Guard Will Celebrate Birthday Aug. 4

On August 4, 1947, the Coast Guard will be 157 years old. Soon after congress had passed the first tariff act in 1789, Alexander Hamilton, the first secretary of the treasury, recommended to congress the construction of "ten boats" to be employed "for the security of revenue." These were authorized on August 4, 1790, and with them was born the Revenue Marine, later to be called the Revenue Cutter Service, and finally to become the Coast Guard.

Not long after its organization the Revenue Marine found itself invested with additional duties. Eight of its cutters were first placed in cooperation with 12 vessels of the newly organized navy in the Quasi War with France in 1798 and did fine service in the summer and fall of 1799, capturing, unaided, 16 out of 20 French privateers taken. Shortly after this the Revenue Marine was entrusted with the enforcement of the state quarantine laws; them with the suppression of piracy and the slave trade; also with the enforcement of the neutrality laws and later with suppressing all crime on the high seas.

In the War of 1812 nine cutters, averaging 125 tons each, captured 14 British vessels. In 1836 eight cutters cooperated with the army and navy in the Seminole War in Florida. In the following year the service was charged with rendering assistance to "distressed navigators" along our coast. In the Mexican War of 1846-48 11 cutters participated, two of them winning glory in amphibious operations at the mouth of the Tobasco river. In the Civil War the service fought for the Union with six steam cutters, three paddle wheel steamers and 14 sailing vessels, one of which accompanied the Monitor in its battle with the Merrimac.

When we acquired Alaska in 1867 a long period of law enforcement in that territory began for the cutters, including protection of seal, halibut and other fish and game. Thirteen cutters cooperated with the navy in the Spanish American War in 1898 with the officers of the Hudson getting the only gold and silver medals bestowed by congress in that war. In International Ice Patrol was added to duties of the service in 1912 and in 1915 the Life Saving Service, with its tradition of intrepidity, was amalgamated with the Revenue Cutter Service to form the Coast Guard.

In World War I, it suffered the greatest losses, in proportion to its size, of any of the armed services. In 1939 the Lighthouse Service became part of the Coast Guard and in 1942, soon after the outbreak of World War II, many marine inspection duties were transferred to it. In the latest conflict the Coast Guard participated in every amphibious landing from Guadalcanal to Tokyo and from Casablanca to southern France, fought submarine by sea and air, captured Nazis in Greenland, and guarded 50,000 miles of our coasts with beach patrols. It manned 261 army, 350 navy and 764 of its own vessels with a total military strength of 239,422 officers and men, including 45,000 Temporary Reservists and 22,000 plant guards. 1878 Coast Guardsmen gave their lives and 1868 were decorated.

CSAA Opposes Federal Law To License Drivers

Opposition to the proposed Federal Driver's License Law was expressed today by the California State Automobile Association in communications addressed to California's Representatives in Congress. This proposal, contained in H. R. 3042, is now before a subcommittee of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of the House.

The bill would provide for the establishment of a Federal Division of Motor Vehicles with authority to issue driving licenses to the nation's 40,000,000 motor vehicle operators. Under the terms of the measure, no person could drive on either state or local roads or streets until he had been granted a Federal operator's permit. Motorists would be charged an initial $2 operator's or chauffeur's fee, plus a renewal fee of 75 cents every two years. The revenue would go to the U. S. Treasury, and would not be earmarked for highway improvements or motorists' needs.

This has long been a field of regulation left to the states, the Automobile Association pointed out, and if the Federal government undertook to license all drivers, it would be obliged to duplicate an already existing licensing author-

SEEMS AS IF SAN FRANCISCO WOULD LIKE TO ANNEX PARTS OF S. M. COUNTY

Coastside section of San Mateo county seem to favor incorporation within the San Francisco county limits.

At the same time a plan to annex the northern part of San Mateo county and create a San Francisco borough system has brought outspoken opposition from the bayside section of the Peninsula.

Roy A. Jones, an Edgemar builder, and Lewis R. Shroyer, a real estate man, appeared before the San Francisco Board of Supervisors on Monday with a plan to incorporate 14 coastal towns within the San Francisco county limits. The villages stretch from the county line along Highway 1 to Half Moon Bay.

Jones claims the Planning Commission and the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors have not given them a square deal in the matter of rezoning lots for business use.

On the other hand, the San Mateo County Supervisors blame annexation proposals on what they call "Disgruntled" real estate operators whose pet projects have been turned down.

Lewis B. Tomberlin, president of the Half Moon Bay Chamber of Commerce, compared the situation in that city today with Burlingame and San Mateo 40 years ago. He wants relaxed zoning laws to allow builders to develop that area. He added that it was impossible for a builder to spend money for sewers, water and roads and sell a home for anywhere near its reasonable value.

According to some coastside leaders, a subdivision in Half Moon Bay was lost to the area when the county planners refused to wave certain zoning restrictions.

In San Mateo, Frank Skillman, secretary of the planning commission, says that the commercial zoning in Edgemar, a town of 200 residents, is sufficient for a population of 2,000 residents.

Another view was expressed by George Dunn, coast civic leader. He criticized the board for its alleged do-nothing and negative attitude toward the coast, but discounted annexation talk as "impractical."

"The planners have continuously applied zoning principles which may be necessary to control bayside development, but act as a block to development of the coastal areas," Dunn said.

The dispute started when Jones petitioned the Planning Commission two months ago to have 1,000 Edgemar lots rezoned for business use and was refused. He thinks San Francisco will be more responsive to the coastal communities' needs.

As for bayside development, the answer seems to be NO to a plan of San Francisco's Supervisor Dan Gallagher to inaugurate a Bay Area borough system of government for all of San Mateo county north of Burlingame.

San Francisco is one of the largest tax payers in San Mateo county. There is the city's airport, golf course, and jail in San Mateo county.

Daly City officials have not been available for comment but it is understood that they are against such a proposal because of the present low tax rate in Daly City.

The same view is expressed by Willis Kirkpatrick, president of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce, who says the chamber will go on record against "incorporation."

He said, "San Francisco is run down at the heels. It's seedy, and the political functioning body is to blame. A recent survey of San Francisco shows that 40 per cent of those contacted want to move down to the Peninsula."

Then he added, "The outlying communities should not be asked to stand the cost of San Francisco's errors and negligence over these many years."

Ralph Woodman, San Bruno city clerk, says that San Francisco wants to have the Peninsula pay for its antiquated street car system, its broken down streets and for its inefficiencies of government.

"I feel sure that the San Francisco Board of Supervisors will never hoodwink Peninsula citizens into coming in on a borough system or any other which would make us surrender our political independence and saddle us with prohibitive taxation," Woodman added.

Cooperation Of Utility Companies Aids Ranchers

Cooperation between two utility companies, The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, last week made possible the introduction of a new type of rural telephone service to three ranches in Lucas Valley near San Rafael. The ranches are the first in California and among the first in the United States to benefit from the new service known as "power line carrier."

The three ranches served are the Pacheco Ranch, the Luiz Ranch, and the Lucas Valley Dairy. It would have required building three miles of new telephone line in order to reach them with suburban service. Under the power line carrier method, circuits will be provided by the telephone company on its lines to a point approximately four miles north of San Rafael. From there conversations will go over the P. G. and E. power line which runs up through Lucas Valley.

Success of the experiment may mean eventual extension of telephone service into some remote rural areas now impossible to serve economically.

Power line carrier service is accomplished by means of high frequency sound waves which "hitchhike" a ride along an electric power line and hop off at the appointed spot and onto a pair of telephone wires running into the customer's house. This can be done with safety and without interference with power line transmission.

Carrier equipment, installed on a power line pole, permits the telephone conversation to get off at the right place. The telephone instrument itself, while it is connected through equipment of special design, looks like an ordinary telephone set.

It was pointed out that while other remote rural districts in California are being studied to ascertain the adaptability of this kind of service in the future, its present use is limited to certain specific rural service situations.

Improved Acoustics In Theaters Seen

Theaters and music rooms of the future will be equipped with rotating cylinders to adjust the acoustics for each type of musical or dramatic performance, Dr. Vern O. Knudsen, professor of physics on the Los Angeles campus of the University of Califorina, predicts.

One-third of each cylinder, which is made up of three different acoustical materials, can be exposed to the room, and reverberation characteristics can be instantly adjusted by a simple motor control. In this way, the best possible acoustic conditions can be obtained, whether for grand opera or softly-spoken drama. In the same way, radio broadcasting studios equipped with the device can get optimal conditions for broadcasting any type of a program.
